WHAT'S THIS?—Those signs, which the pickets are carrying outside the Packard Manufacturing Co. in Indianapolis, Ind., are definitely unfavorable to Senator Capehart, but that second man in line is Capehart himself. The Indiana Republican, board chairman of the struck company, stepped into the picket line as a gag. Union walked out over seniority rights.

Grace Kelly, Prince Lunch Last Time Before Wedding

MONTE CARLO (AP)—Grace Kelly, who today for the last time as an American girl from Philadelphia, the film queen marries the ruler of this little Riviera principality of Monaco in a civil ceremony in the throne room of his palace shortly before noon (5 a.m. EST) Wednesday. Religious rites will follow Thursday in the Roman Catholic Cathedral of Monaco.

Friends described the bride-to-be as "looking simply radiant." One of them quoted her as saying: "Everything is working out wonderfully. Just like a fairy tale, and even the sun has come out."

Value Of Wedding Gifts For Couple May Total One Million

MONTE CARLO (AP)—The diamonds, lions, limousines and other wedding gifts sent Grace Kelly and Prince Rainier could easily reach the million-dollar figure.

Nat King Cole Cancels Stop At Atlanta, Ga.

ATLANTA (AP)—Singer Nat King Cole has canceled an Atlanta appearance, telling promoter B. B. Beamon he would not appear here "for a million dollars."

Beamon announced the cancellation of tonight's performance after talking with the Negro singer Monday night in Winston-Salem, N. C. He said Cole told him he was "afraid to come to Atlanta."

The promoter said he relayed to Cole the assurance of Atlanta Police Chief Herbert Jenkins that there would be adequate protection. Someone might try to kill during Cole's entire visit.

Beamon quoted Cole as saying, "It's not a matter of police protection, even with a hundred policemen on hand."

The Negro ballad singer was attacked by six white men on the stage of a Birmingham, Ala., theater April 7. He was knocked down but not seriously hurt. The six men are being tried on charges growing out of the attack.

Beamon said Cole "told me he'd been to Atlanta many times before and would like to come here again but right now he said he isn't in any shape to go through that ordeal again."

Cole received an ovation from an audience of about 6,000 in Winston-Salem Monday night. There were no incidents.

Muscular Dystrophy Poster Boy Dies

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP)—Raymond Waller, poster boy for the National Muscular Dystrophy Research Foundation, died here Monday.

The 19-year-old youth, who had been on the foundation's campaign posters since it was established in 1950, was wasted away by the disease until he weighed only 35 pounds. He developed pneumonia Sunday.

He was the adopted son of Mrs. Louise Waller of Port Arthur.

Grand Jury Indicts E. Liverpool Police; Lashes At Gambling

Indictments against seven East Liverpool police officers and special patrolmen and against 14 other individuals were returned Monday afternoon by the Columbiana County April Grand Jury. Arraignment will be Monday before Common Pleas Court Judge Joel H. Sharp.

The grand jury criticized the East Liverpool police department, suggesting that at least one patrolman be fired, and lashed at gambling activities in the county.

The jury, reporting to Judge Joel H. Sharp at 3:55 p.m. after a 10-day session, returned indictments against officers Robert McBane, 33; Ira Cunningham, 30; Robert Carroll, 33; Louis Stutler, 33; Robert Hanna, 31; and special officers Dallas Bishop, 38, and Jerry Raimond.

The indictments listed a series of burglaries in which the officers are alleged to have participated over a period of about three years. Three secret indictments were returned, but none applied to police officers or any city official, the prosecutor's office reported.

The indictments, with places allegedly burglarized, follow: McBane, Cunningham, Carroll and Raimond, burglary of Burdick's Hardware Store.

Stutler, McBane and Carroll, burglary of the Winland Lumber Co.

Hanna, burglary of Smith & Phillips store.

Raimond, McBane, Cunningham, Carroll and Stutler, burglary of the Pearl China Co.

McBane, Raimond, Bishop and Cunningham, burglary of the Bernan Lumber Co.

McBane, Cunningham and Raimond, burglary of the Duquesne Distributing Co.

McBane, Raimond, Carroll, Stutler and Cunningham, burglary of the J. C. Penney store.

McBane and Cunningham, burglary of American Legion Post No. 4.

Bishop, McBane, Cunningham, Carroll, burglary of Smith & Phillips.

Also indicted were: Betty Sanders of East Liverpool, cutting with intent to wound.

Wayne M. Deffenbaugh of East Liverpool, two indictments for burglary and larceny.

Wayne Oesch of Salem, two counts of forgery.

James Murphy, 27, of East Palestine, bigamy.

Charles Mercer Jr., 27, of East Liverpool, burglary.

Wilford Wright, 30, Highlandtown, receiving stolen property.

Frank Schmidt, 27, of Wellsville, larceny.

Richard Fleeson and Arthur Felger, both 18, East Palestine, two counts of burglary.

Lewis Headley, 30, of Rochester, Pa., and Dale Rice, 31; Donald Dunn, 24; Robert Higgins, 24; and Alfred Higgins, 21; all of East Liverpool, auto theft; and Rice was also indicted for carrying concealed weapons.

A charge of manslaughter against Jacob D. Light, 26, of Lebanon, Pa., concerning a traffic death at Columbiana, was dismissed by the jury after it was discovered the accident occurred in Mahoning County.

1951 Car Once Owned By Rainier To Be Sold

SALEM, Mass. (AP)—Navy Lt. Stephen J. Stringos, 31, has put up for sale a custom-made 1951 automobile he says once belonged to Prince Rainier of Monaco. He said he bought the French de-luxe from an agent of the Prince in Paris last year. He declined to say how much he paid for it, but said he hopes to get more than $2,500.

Youth Admits County Holdup Nabbed By Patrolmen Near Steubenville

A 19-year-old Burgettstown, Pa. youth who authorities said admitted a series of holdups and burglaries in Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia was arrested Monday night at about 7 by Wintersville state highway patrolmen after they had been radioed by Harrison County deputies to nab the youth.

The youth, Gerald W. Wright, was arrested by patrolmen on Rt. 22 in front of their barracks near Steubenville. He was being chased by Harrison County deputies at the time.

Wright is being held in Cadiz. Authorities are still searching for a 16-year-old juvenile of Frankfort Springs, Pa., and a man from Canton who were implicated by Wright in some of the burglaries and holdups.

Wright was captured last night after he reportedly held up Roy's Truck Stop near Cadiz at 6:45 p.m. A few hours prior to that holdup, he allegedly held up the Hoot Owl Inn in Carroll County.

Wright said he used a pistol which shot pellets during the holdups. He said a Canton man accompanied him on the holdups.

The youth also admitted holding up the Evans Store at Elkton about 1:30 p.m. Saturday and escaping with about $80 and a carton of cigarettes, sheriff's deputies said. The lone occupant of the store at the time was Larry Evans, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Olin Evans, who was tending the store. Wright said the 16-year-old Frankfort Springs youth was with him when he held up the Evans store.

In addition, Wright confessed to burglarizing a Hanoverston Township, Pa., school, Raccoon School in Tyre, Pa., and a tavern, Johnny's Place, near Weirton, W. Va.

Columbiana County Deputy James F. Miller and Carroll County Deputy Howard K. Seith questioned the man following his arrest yesterday.

Wright is still undergoing questioning to determine the total number of burglaries and holdups he was involved in, the amount of loot and money taken and the crimes the two accomplices named by Wright participated in.

Gov. Lee Fails To Pay Taxes By Deadline

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—The deadline for paying federal income tax passed Monday night, but part of Utah Gov. J. Bracken Lee's tax money rests today in a safe deposit box in a Salt Lake City bank.

"And that's where it will stay," Lee says, "until a court rules that either I or the government have a right to it."

The Republican governor contends it is unconstitutional for the federal government to use tax revenue to pay for foreign nations. By refusing to pay his tax he hopes to force a court test of this contention.

"There is no provision anywhere in the Constitution granting the U.S. government the right to appropriate taxpayers' money for support of foreign nations," Lee said, adding he'll "fight" in the Supreme Court, if necessary, to prove his case.

Farm Belt GOP Chiefs Worried By Ike's Veto

Party Chairman Hall Claims President's Move Aids Republicans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Evidence of some Republican dissatisfaction with President Eisenhower's farm bill veto emerged today from a GOP campaign conference despite Party Chairman Leonard W. Hall's contention it "will help the Republican party."

Eisenhower will speak at a final conference session tonight—in effect formally opening his re-election campaign.

George F. Etzell, Minnesota national committeeman, told reporters the farm bill veto "is going to make it harder for us to elect Republicans in the Midwest."

Heard Farm Reports Etzell heard at closed sessions Monday what some members described as unfavorable reports about the political complexion of the farm situation from Kansas and South Dakota.

The committee arranged to hear today from representatives of Colorado, North Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa and Nebraska.

New Jet Flies 1,000 M.P.H.

Dazzling New Craft Rated World's Best

PALMDALE, Calif. (AP)—The Lockheed F104A Starfighter, a missile with a man in it, has flown more than 1,000 miles an hour.

Several hundred persons, including the largest gathering of news writers of its kind, witnessed the achievement Monday. It was the fastest an aircraft ever has flown before a sizable audience.

It was the first public showing of this dazzling new craft which Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, has called "the fastest and highest flying fighter anywhere in the sky."

Exact Speed Secret The exact speed of the plane is a secret. Actually two models were flown—the original XF104, powered by a Curtiss-Wright J65 jet engine, and the production model F104A, which has a lighter and more powerful engine, the General Electric J79.

"Finest In World" Robert E. Gross, Lockheed Aircraft Corp. president, told the gathering that the F104 was "the champion in the fighter field—the finest fighter in the world."

Gen. to P. Weyland, commander of the Tactical Air Command, announced that his command would be the first to receive the new air superiority fighter, and the first planes soon will go into operational squadrons.

"This is much more than just another fighter," Weyland said. "It is a significant and tremendous step forward in our progress on supersonic flight."

"It will be a strong deterrent to any potential enemy. No other country in the world can match it at this time."

The most striking thing about the new fighter was its resemblance to a missile, largely because its wings are so short and stubby they hardly seem to qualify as airplane wings.

Republican Meeting Set In East Palestine

LISBON — An invitation has been extended to all county and district GOP candidates to attend a meeting in East Palestine Wednesday in the IOOF Hall according to Mrs. Leonard Holman, president of the East Palestine Women's Republican Club.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. Chalmers Wylie of Columbus, candidate for attorney general, will be the principal speaker. He will be introduced by State Representative Clarence L. Wetzel.

President Adds Feature To Pay 500 Million In Farm Aid This Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican congressional leaders called on the Democrats today to rally behind President Eisenhower's new soil bank proposal if they really want to help the American farmer.

The GOP leadership issued this call at a White House news conference following their weekly meeting with the President. Key Democrats in Congress, meanwhile, were reacting coldly to the Eisenhower proposal.

GOP Senate Leader Knowland and House Republican Leader

Martin forecast that the President's veto of the Democratic sponsored farm bill will be upheld by substantial margins.

Martin said he sees "a bare possibility" a majority of House members will back the President's stand in a vote scheduled Wednesday.

Action Could Be Quick Knowland said the Senate could pass a soil bank bill, as the President requested in his veto message, within a week or two. Martin said the House could do so in a single day.

The GOP Senate leader said he thinks many Democrats will back the President's proposal once the "temporary flurry" over the veto has passed.

"I can't believe that purely for political purposes they would now turn around and oppose something they have already approved," Knowland said.

Eisenhower, in a nationwide television and radio broadcast Monday night explained his veto, insisting that politics had not entered into his decision.

"I will always resist any attempt to make the farmer and his problems a political football," he said.

Declaring that he had vetoed the big farm bill with keen disappointment, he said:

"I had no choice. I could not sign this bill into law because it was a bad bill. In the months ahead, it would hurt more farmers than it would help. In the long run it would hurt all farmers. It was a bad bill for the country."

Urges Speedy Action Eisenhower urged again that Congress act speedily to approve his soil bank program. It is designed to pay farmers subsidies totaling as much as $1,200,000,000 yearly for taking land out of production of crops already in surplus. They would sign contracts with the government to do so.

This time, Eisenhower added a new feature he said would give farmers an extra 500 million dollars this year.

"By a simple provision in the Soil Bank Act," he said, "The Congress can authorize the government to begin making payments to a maximum of 50 per cent after the farmer signs a contract."

"Thus immediately after July 1, 1956, farmers who agree to participate... will be eligible for payment. These initial payments will help our farmers this crop year."

Eisenhower said the remaining 50 per cent of the amount any farmer was entitled to for participation would be paid when he had complied with his agreement to take land out of cash production.

150 Kiwanians From 9 Clubs Attend Meeting In Leetonia

One hundred-fifty Kiwanians, representing nine clubs in the 15th division, heard H. W. Driver of Euclid, international Kiwanis trustee, speak on United States and Canadian good will at a division dinner meeting Monday night at the Leetonia St. Paul Lutheran Church.

Driver's topic coincided with the sponsorship by Kiwanis clubs over the nation of a U.S.-Canada goodwill week which is scheduled next week.

The longest unfortified border between two nations exists between the United States and Canada. Driver said as he commented on the friendly relations between the two countries.

Saying that Canada has natural resources which the U.S. does not own, Driver said that the St. Lawrence Seaway project will be extremely beneficial to both nations.

In the third year of the office of trustee, Driver was recently reappointed chairman of the board committee on Kiwanis youth organizations.

A Kiwanian since 1937, Driver has served as Euclid Kiwanis president, governor of the Ohio Kiwanis district, chairman of four district committees, bulletin editor and district secretary.

Clark S. Marshall, Leetonia-Washington Kiwanis Club secretary, was master of ceremonies and program chairman for the event, and introduced the speaker.

The Leetonia-Washingtonville Club were hosts to the affair which drew members from clubs in Salem, Columbiana, Washingtonville, Lisbon, East Liverpool, Wellsville, Steubenville and Belleire.

Visiting officials introduced by S. S. Corthell of Akron, district secretary, included: Melvin Hoskover of Cuyahoga Falls, district treasurer; Russ Huddleston of East Liverpool, past governor and past international trustee; Albert R. Cox of Canton, past governor and past international trustee; Charles Schell of East Liverpool, lieutenant governor; Rev. Lee Myers of East Palestine, division inter-club chairman.

Rev. Myers gave the invocation during the program hour which featured vocal renditions by the Ohio River Boys of East Liverpool, a male quartet, and songs by a high school woodwind quartet from East Palestine. The woodwind quartet received a superior rating at the regional state solo and ensemble contest at Kent University Saturday.

Carl Vignon is the Leetonia-Washingtonville club president.

The steak dinner was served by the Deborah Class of St. Paul Church.

Way To Stardom

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (U)—To get ahead in the entertainment world, says Carroll Baker, "you have to be willing to turn down jobs—and eat macaroni."

"Half the problem in building a career is picking worthwhile roles."

It was her willingness to subsist on macaroni until the right part came along that has made Carroll Baker a star at 22. After only two films, she is already in the $50,000 to $75,000 class.

Chances are you never even heard of Carroll Baker, a slender, child-faced beauty who wears no makeup and looks as if she'd just stepped off a Victorian valentine.

But the chances are you won't be able to avoid hearing a lot about her before the year is out.

In the theater belt she is being readied for Cinderella girl build-up as director Elia Kazan's "last test discovery." To be discovered by Kazan is better than having a rich old uncle in Australia—it's the stepping stone to quick money in the bank.

Among the other young stars Kazan helped rocket to a morning fame are Marion Brando, Julie Harris, Eva Marie Saint, and the late Jim Dean.

Miss Baker had played only a relatively minor part in one film, the dramatization of Edna Ferber's "Giant," when Kazan had her try out for "Baby Doll." After one reading, he awarded her the title role.

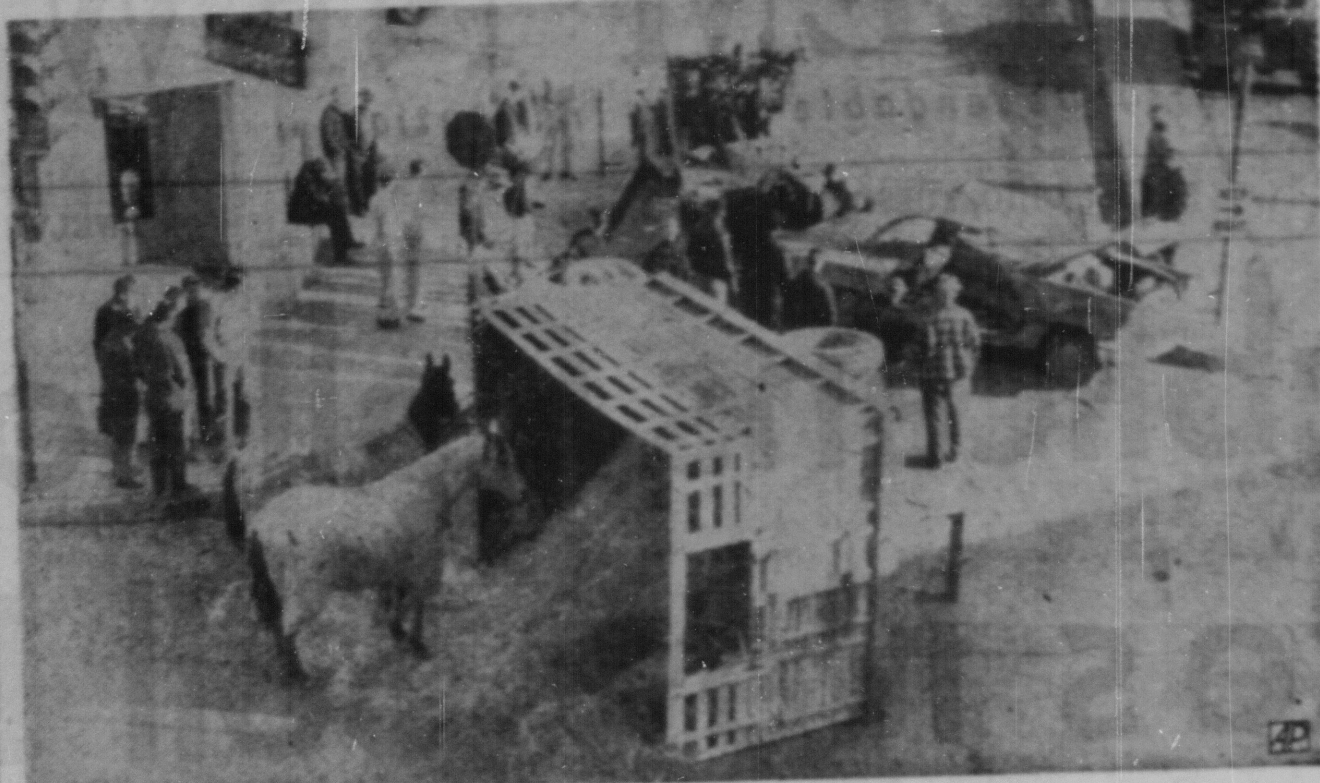

"Baby Doll," written by Tennessee Williams, is a sex-haunted Southern tale in which a child bride comes to emotional maturity in an atmosphere of middle-aged arson and young grace.

The success of the 14-million-dollar production is almost sure to depend on how well the public likes Carroll's performance as the bewildered, thumb-sucking young bride.

But Kazan was so taken with her acting, he immediately signed her for another film—an unusual step for him. And Warner Bros. put her under contract for four more to be made in the next six years.

That's as many as Miss Baker, who has a clear and stubborn head on her young shoulders, wants to be bound to.

"It isn't the number of reductions you're in that counts," she said. "The important thing is to be in the right thing, with the right director."

'HAY, WHAT'S GOING ON HERE?'—Two puzzled horses, rudely dumped from a truck after a crash at an intersection in Spokane, Wash., stand by while police question the drivers involved. Horses were hurt, Harry W. French of LaMont, Wash., driver of the truck, was charged with going through a red traffic light. He was slightly injured. C. R. Gilliland of Spokane, driving the car, was hospitalized with a head injury.

Carroll, the daughter of a traveling salesman turned farmer, was born in Johnstown, Pa. She started her career as a dancer at 11. On one of her later jobs on TV, she doubled as weather announcer.

One night she lost her cue cards and, while trying to improvise the weather from memory, she announced:

"There is a lot of air blowing in from Texas."

This impromptu observation left Miss Baker at liberty at once to take up the serious study of acting, which she did.

She made her Broadway debut in "Escapade," and first won critical attention in "All Summer Long." Later she auditioned for Jack Garfein, a young stage director, and he signed her soon after to a lifetime role as his wife.

Both she and her husband share a serious interest in the drama that goes beyond the opportunity for making a fast buck.

"I turned down film scripts for eight months before I thought the right one came along," she recalled.

"We were eating cheese and macaroni three times a week. But Jack and I believe integrity comes first."

Women's Bowling Association Has Columbiana Meeting

COLUMBIANA — Salem Women's Bowling Association, at its annual meeting in the American Legion home here Sunday afternoon, selected the Hawkland bowling lanes in Lisbon as the place for the 1957 spring tournament and Wednesday, June 6, for the annual picnic, which will be a coverdish supper in Pavilion 4, Firestone Park.

The president, Margaret Stewart of Salem, who has another year of a three-year term to serve, presided over the meeting during which these officers were elected: Esther Stockman, Lisbon, vice president, one year; Julia Ellis, Columbiana, secretary, three years; Ethel Bricker, Lisbon, sergeant-at-arms, one year.

Trophies and prize money for the recent tournament in Salem were awarded. Town Tavern team, of Washingtonville took first honors; Shirley Crum and Marcella Hanna, East Palestine, won the doubles; May Garloch, Hanoverton, the singles, and Minnie Spear, Washingtonville, and Millie Kline, Salem, all-events winners.

The association embraces Salem, Washingtonville, Leetonia, Hanoverton, Lisbon, Columbiana and East Palestine.

COLUMBIANA WOMEN'S Democratic Club will plan activities for the May 8 primary at a meeting at Valley Golf Club at 8 p.m. today.

Village Gardeners will be guests of the Green Thumb Garden Club at Heck's Restaurant at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Columbiana County Council of the American Legion, at its April meeting in Leetonia, adopted a proposal by Firestone Post of Columbiana that the 10th district add second and vice commander to its list of officers. The council decided to buy medals for county essay winners this year. Dr. J. R. Garstick will soon make the local awards here for Firestone Post.

Presbyterian Women's Association will meet in Westminster hall of the church at 8:15 p.m. Thursday, when Mrs. H. C. Parham of Youngstown will speak. Members of Miriam Circle will be hostesses. Columbiana High School seniors will present the annual senior class play in the High School auditorium at 8 p.m. today. "Buy Jupiter" is the title of the play this year.

The Red Cross bloodmobile will be at the American Legion home in Salem next Friday. Blood donors from Columbiana and vicinity may arrange appointments and transportation by calling Mrs. C. W. Dewalt, IV 2-4635 or Mrs. Walter Miller, IV 2-4643.

A NUMBER OF Columbiana merchants will attend the third annual northeastern Ohio retail workshop at Kent State University next Thursday. A committee from the retail merchants' division of the Chamber of Commerce is signing up merchants who plan to attend.

The workshop will be in progress from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. when Fred H. Breesee of Oneonta, N.Y., who has been successful in methods of attracting a large volume of business to a small town will speak. John Fitzpatrick is in charge of reservations.

An open church wedding is planned for 7:30 p.m. Saturday, May 12, at Jerusalem Lutheran church for Miss Lois Jean Glenn, daughter of Mrs. Marian Glenn, 603 Fairfield Ave., and the late Randall Glenn, and Edward Myron Ripple, 6726 Meander Drive, Youngstown.

Miss Glenn, a graduate of Columbiana High School and Youngstown University, is in the employ of the Steel City Electric Co., and Mr. Ripple attended Austintown Schools, served four years in the U.S. Air Force and is in the employ of the G. & W. Distributing Co.

A reception in the social rooms of the church will follow the ceremony.

Mothers of children who will be entering kindergarten at the opening of school next fall will be the guests of the kindergarten Mothers' Club at Heck's restaurant at 6:15 p.m. tomorrow.

The Philo Class of the Methodist Church will meet at the home of Frances Wells, 134 S. West St., at 8 p.m. Thursday. Co-hostesses will be Mary Dean, Etta Moorehead and Mildred Mowen.

Past Chiefs Club, Pythian sisters, will be guests at the home of Mrs. Emerson Hively, 231 W. Park Ave., at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Wide Awake Class will meet at Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, with Mrs. Mae Halverstadt and Mrs. Meta Myers as hostesses.

The Home Builders' class will have a coverdish dinner at the Methodist church at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Knight and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jessup are the committee.

Picture Talk
By R. W. KAMINSKY

Starting a garden or other do-it-yourself project in the backyard? Beginning your summer week-end outings? Is Junior warming up his pitching arm? These are all signs of spring, and every one of them is worth recording on film.

As a matter of fact, now is an excellent time to start your springtime picture series. Include snapshots of Dad spading the garden; the children planting the seed; Mother getting her rose garden in shape; the family enjoying the first spring picnic. These are all wonderful "firsts" for your album. As the weeks go by, you add to them. And as your garden grows, so grow the interests in your album.

As for Junior's baseball activities (or you and Dad golfing), why not try movies? Then, you can really see the improvement as the season advances. And full-color movies, you know, cost as little as 10c per scene. Movie cameras today are not expensive, either. Both movie and still cameras come in a wide range of prices starting at just about the lowest prices ever. Why not come in and look around?

Ohio Farm Bureau Praises Ike's Veto

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Farm Bureau Federation today commended President Eisenhower for his decision to veto the omnibus Farm Bill.

D. R. Stanfield, executive secretary of the federation, said in a statement:

"We believe that President Eisenhower is right in vetoing the Farm Bill—that the measure, as a whole, would be bad for agriculture."

"Although the proposal had some good features, it would be silly to couple the Soil Bank Plan with every imaginable incentive to encourage production. x x x

"The farm problem can only be solved by a forthright effort to balance supply with demand by expanding markets and discontinuing governmental encouragement of surpluses for federal warehouses."

Stanfield also said the federation was pleased that "18 of Ohio's 23 congressmen, by their vote on the bill, agreed with the majority of Ohio farmers."

TV Camera May Replace Car's Rear View Mirror

BOSTON (AP)—The Universal Broadcast System, Inc., says the rear view mirror in the automobile of the future may be replaced by a televised view of the road behind.

In Performance

At NASCAR's Speed and Safety Event at Daytona, Ford won the Manufacturer's Trophy for best all-around performance. And Ford's 225-h.p. Thunderbird Special V-8, in one day, smashed 30 world speed records at Kingman, Arizona. No wonder Ford is the world's largest-selling eight.

In Safety

When the editors of "Motor Trend" unanimously voted Ford's safety program "the top car advance" of 1956, they had in mind Ford's Lifeguard Design... a whole family of safety features, including a deep-center steering wheel and double-grip door latches, to help protect you in case of accident.

In Economy

In this year's Mobilgas Economy Run, a Ford Customline V-8 with Fordomatic won over all cars in its class. The sturdier, heavier Ford carried more weight with greater gasoline economy per pound than any competitive car... "size" as well as "weight." Ford proved itself a regular gas miser.

Unfinished Business

In November, 1947, the United Nations General Assembly partitioned Palestine three ways—a Jewish state, an Arab state and an international city of Jerusalem.

The Arabs were dead set against the proposed partition. The Jews had strong reservations about it. So nothing was done.

In May, 1948, the state of Israel was proclaimed and immediately was catapulted into war against armies from Egypt, Lebanon, Syria, Transjordan and Iraq, plus a token force from Saudi Arabia. The British mandate had expired; the warring forces were on their own.

The U.N. Mediator, Ralph J. Bunche and his associates brought about an armistice on the basis of existing battle lines in 1949. Israel thus gained an area almost a third larger than the one set for it in the U.N. plan. It controlled about three-fourths of Palestine.

The armistice was intended to give the belligerents time to settle territorial and political questions. But peace negotiations floundered. That is the source of the war scare in the Middle East—the unfinished business that was begun in 1948 and never finished. Israel wants to keep what it has. The Arabs now want what they wouldn't accept in 1947.

The course of the trouble has been lost sight of in the complications that have grown out of the United Nations inability to do after Britain withdrew from Palestine what the British decried of being able to do if they remained.

Anyone Died Of Thirst?

Ohio Board of Liquor Control, which was legislated into existence to control the distribution of liquor after the 18th amendment had been repealed, has filed a new "freeze" order with the secretary of state.

The new order is to replace the one knocked out by the Ohio Supreme Court, which has ruled that permits must keep pace with population. This is a question that never has been answered honestly in Ohio.

Has anyone died of thirst in this state under the Ohio Board of Liquor Control?

If the total number of permits never increased and the population of Ohio doubled, would there be the slightest danger that anyone would die of thirst?

The Ohio monopoly system was adopted because it looked like the best way to keep liquor from becoming a nuisance, as it had been in the saloon era. The monopoly system, controlled by the state as the agent of all the people, aimed to make liquor available in adequate but never excessive amounts.

There is no record that any Ohioan has died of thirst, no danger that any Ohioan will die of thirst.

Paul Bellamy

Paul Bellamy became one of a line of great editors of the Cleveland Plain Dealer in a career that covered nearly a half century before his death last Thursday night. He was a source of satisfaction to members of his craft. They admired him for measuring up to their specifications.

He grew into his responsibilities as he acquired them in a way that reflected credit on the press. Only a few newspapermen ever emerge from anonymity. That is why they become important to all those who work behind scenes. They are symbols.

Paul Bellamy was a symbol. He was a skillful and urbane director of a great newspaper property in a great state. He made himself useful in all ways to his associates, his neighbors and his countrymen and remained fittingly humble throughout, because he never lost his respect for any of them.

They, in turn, never lost their respect for him.

Beyond The Constitution

Birmingham, Ala., is lucky the attack on Nat (King) Cole in its Municipal Auditorium by white men didn't set off a riot.

Here was a highly successful and nationally respected colored entertainer who was born and raised in Alabama and had been hired to entertain, first, a white audience and then a colored audience, in accordance with a state law prohibiting mixed audiences. The attack occurred while he was appearing before the white audience. The attackers were white men. The white audience sympathized with Cole.

The riot they might have set off would have been whites against whites—southern whites fed up with prejudice versus wool-hat, rabble-rousing, southern-fried Kluxers with nothing but prejudice in their hearts.

This is a matter beyond the Constitution, where southern legalists would like to keep it. Legalism is their meat. Morality is beyond their depth.

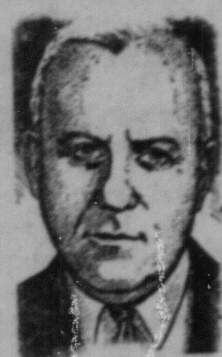

That is where the solution must be found—in the consciences of decent southerners who are tired of apologizing for race prejudice in a South that is just as precious to them as it is to revived Klu Kluxers.

Seeds Of Tax Revolt

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Foreign Aid Demands Have Communist Tint

This week—when income tax payments by the billions are flowing into the United States Treasury—is a good time to note one of the strangest phenomena of our times, namely the indifference of the electorate as a whole to what is done with the money. But underneath there is a ferment of revolt, and the spenders who have just begun a huge propaganda designed to influence Congress to send more billions abroad haven't the faintest idea of what they are going to be up against on Capitol Hill.

What defies understanding is the steady unremitting propaganda in news dispatches recently from Europe and Asia reflecting a curious belief that money grows on trees in America.

Lately the line has taken a new turn—there's no Communist menace, there's no "emphasizing military alliances" and the thing to do is to create new agencies of economic cooperation to think up ways and means of pouring dollars into the pocketbooks of vested interests abroad who control various governments.

The most arrogant of all the demands is that America give money away and get nothing in return.

IT IS ARGUED that since the Communists are out to win the "neutralist" and "uncommitted" countries, America had better get busy and send over some more billions in this supposedly new form of competition with Soviet Russia.

If there's no Communist menace, however, and these countries themselves aren't afraid of being gobbled up, there's no reason for America to send taxpayers' money to disillusion them against their will. The basic reason all along for foreign economic and military aid appropriated by Congress has been to build strength among our allies to resist communism. Now America is being told in the news dispatches reflecting Asian opinion that it's all wrong to resist communism.

The propaganda from abroad printed in some eastern newspapers has a familiar pattern. It starts off usually with the Communist-parroted argument that America "talks about war too much" or is so concerned with "military alliances."

Even Walter Reuther, head of the auto workers union, has just been making a tour of India criticizing his own government on that point and winding up with the suggestion that many more billions of dollars be given to India with no conditions whatsoever. He seems to have forgotten the many members of labor unions in the United States who are paying heavy income taxes.

IT IS ODD to see an American abroad undermining confidence in his own government. Mr. Reuther told a big audience in New Delhi a few days ago that the American people were not behind Secretary Dulles on the issue of Goa and that they overwhelmingly supported the point of view of India. He hinted that because Portugal—which claims Goa as its province—is a party to the European Defense Alliance it was necessary perhaps for Mr. Dulles to sympathize with Portugal.

What Mr. Reuther ignored is that Portugal owns the Azores which are important militarily to the United States as a base in the Atlantic Ocean for airplanes and naval ships and that an agreement to renew the lease on those bases comes up soon. Mr. Dulles, of course, is thinking of how to save the lives of American boys to be drafted into the military service if war comes.

Nobody raised the Goa issue until recently although the colony on the Indian Ocean has been an integral part of Portugal's governmental system for 400 years. Now, of course, the Communists have stimulated and exploited the controversy and many well-meaning, loyal Americans have been taken in by the propaganda.

Another line spread by those who report in Asian opinion is that the United States mustn't put any conditions on its grants of aid or expect any help in return. Evidently America must give her billions away with no questions asked. It is argued that to ask for something in return—even friendliness to our cause and an end to conspiracy with the Kremlin—injures the "pride" of the Asians. Maybe the best thing to do is to stop hurting their "pride" any longer by stopping the flow of gift money to them. American taxpayers would save a lot.

MUCH OF THE propaganda contains a subtle attack on Secretary Dulles. He is bad medicine for certain Europeans and Asians. That's because he is too good an American. He does happen to think more about how America can get something for her money than do others in this country and abroad who want him to give it away and ask no questions.

If the "uncommitted" nations like to tie themselves into Communist intrigue, if they want to be "neutral" as between freedom and slavery, all the billions in America will not dissuade them and they are entitled to the privilege of self-deception, if not self-destruction. Meanwhile, America can continue aid to allies who know the score and will remain faithful to the defense of the West.

Jefferson Have Mercy

By TRUMAN TWILL

There are as many theories about what's right and wrong in education as there are about traffic management.

But if an outsider can butt into the theorizing, here's a suggestion about the theories in general.

They should be made to square with reality, because education in a democracy cannot be separated from reality.

Education is tied to reality as closely as it is tied to the willingness and ability of people to pay for it.

Yet educationists and others who theorize about education have a tendency to forget about the popular base of education and discuss it as if it led an independent existence in some never-never land where everybody was well adjusted, economically sound, blessed with good habits and complete mental and physical health.

That is not the way it is. Some of the toughest problems educators tackle have nothing to do with academic education at all but with chronic defects in the warp and woof of the social structure, which extends, in a democracy, all the way from the bottom up.

That is why when educators theorize and when laymen theorize with them they go so often into an escapist routine where everything starts on the second floor and soars upward from there.

They would like to get away from the things that keep dragging education down, from all the social failures that ultimately come to a reckoning in public education, from all the handicaps and interferences with pedagogy as they think it should be pedagogued.

All barriers should be bulldozed out of the path of progress, they say. All things that interfere with education, such as empty bellies and pocketbooks, addled heads, crossed wires, human devilry, perversity and obtuseness would be forbidden to interfere with pure learning.

The catch is the democratic basis of education, which means there must be education from the bottom up.

There is nothing inconsistent about separating sheep from goats in a democracy, because it is done all the time, but Thomas Jefferson have mercy on the soul of anyone who suggests the sheep and goats shouldn't graze in the same pasture.

That is where education's theorists go astray—when they forget that education's foremost obligation, as long as it is paid for by the people, is to live with the people's problems, most of which are a pain in the edification.

It cannot rise above its handicaps, and it cannot sweep them under the rug—not be public education. It must live with them even when they interfere with education: that is the ultimate reality of education in a democracy, which is education for freedom, tolerance and understanding of what makes the world imperfect, as well as education in the extraction of the square root and what Swinburne said about the seasons.

Government Give-Away Programs

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

As we are not getting an income tax cut, we ought to be taking a good look at the amounts which we, taxpayers, are putting out for the various programs of our government. For 20 years, the Republicans have been very critical of the Democrats who were redistributing the wealth of our people by the process of taxation. The Republicans called it creeping socialism, a term invented by Herbert Hoover and generally employed as descriptive of the latter Roosevelt and the Truman administrations. Creeping socialism was a campaign slogan in 1952.

So in 1952, the people elected a Republican president, either because Eisenhower was personally popular or because the people were tired of creeping socialism.

Whichever it was, the give-away both in foreign aid and internal welfare has not only continued unabated but is increasing, and may be in 1956, it will be the Democrats who will complain about creeping socialism.

VARIOUS WELFARE expenditures were started because of the depression and it was generally assumed by the citizens that they would taper off or cease altogether if we ever got prosperous.

At any rate, it was hoped that our income taxes would not always be so high that no matter how much we earned, we generally would come out at about the same place after taxes. Certainly peace and prosperity ought to be related to cash on hand. However, in 1954 (the latest available checked figure) the people of the United States spent 10 1/2 billion dollars on various welfare activities of the federal and state governments which is about twice as much as they spent in 1946 just after World War II was supposed to be over. It is estimated that next year, it will cost about one billion dollars more. It can go on and upward forever.

Another point to be made is that when everybody talks about booms and prosperity and how good things are, there are still millions on relief. Why are they on relief if there is full employment?

ONE OF THE MOST outrageous and immoral reasons is that industry will not employ persons over 45, not because they are not valuable workers but because they are too costly for pension funds. It is a thoroughly dishonorable business and the Forty Plus Clubs fight for their people, but in the end, as they grow older, they only too often have to go on relief which does no one any good.

Relief for the needy runs to about 5 billion dollars a year of government money, which does not include private charity to which the American people contribute more generously than any other on earth. Congress ought to investigate all limitations upon employment to discover if the rules are arbitrary and imitative or if there are any sound reasons.

One of the big costs, running to just under 5 billion dollars a year, is veterans pensions, which item includes medical care and what is called education.

THIS IS GOING to stay with us for a long time and will probably increase from year to year. Also if we find more "police actions" on behalf of the United Nations, we shall undoubtedly have more veterans and more pensions.

The Hoover Commission has got itself into quite an argument with veteran organizations such as the American Legion over the use of veterans' hospitals by veterans all their lives and by their families. This question will be fought out on the floors of Congress, but it is doubtful whether the use of such hospitals will be limited too severely to those who came by their disabilities in the service of their nation or by over-eating barbecued spare-ribs and other items that the gall bladder resists.

POLITICS is only too often governed by the give-away, and members of Congress fear to vote against any changes in the present situation. State governments which pay out to families on relief, millions of them, cannot consider the subject objectively because of the size of the relief vote and those who believe that the state must guarantee a living to those who cannot find employment or who will not accept employment but who are able to work for a living.

This is a social complex that will have to be taken seriously someday because money does not grow on trees, even for a government.

Paradise Is Thataway

By TRUMAN TWILL

A double-page advertisement in the New Yorker magazine extolling the reasons why Puerto Rico is a better place to live than the United States makes my eyes pop.

As its implications sink their pearly teeth into the palsied hands of the chief Yankee Doodles in Washington, their eyes will pop, too.

The ad uses for bait a richly colored scene of a Puerto Rican beach with the blue Caribbean stretching away to the horizon. On the beach is a small party of carefree people preparing a picnic.

These people, the ad says, are neither Puerto Ricans nor vacationists. They are Americans who have taken up residence in Puerto Rico to get away from the stress, strain, moil and toil of life on the mainland.

This has been done occasionally to get away from punitive taxes. But a mass exodus is being urged on Americans now through one of the most powerful advertising media.

The United States is not so hot, says the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico in rhumba rhythm, with a tinkling accompaniment of ice cubes and the burbling swish of swizzle sticks to punctuate the message.

There are better places to live—places where life is geared down to the ebb and flow of the seas, places warmed by the tropical sun, stretched out under the blue canopy of the Caribbean sky and annotated with a rum mist.

The ad is a reminder that the purpose of being alive is not to work yourself to a frazzle but to live it up, because being alive only happens once in a lifetime. So why chain yourself to a grind-and-grovel routine?

Tak whatever your assets are—monetary and otherwise, and hit the Puerto Rican beaches. Wiggle your toes in the wet sand. Soak up the sun. Knit up the raveled sleeves of care. Let your ulcer heal. Get the overstretched rubber hands out of the old thinking and be as carefree as a soaring seagull.

This is the kind of mental well poisoning being done by the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico in a magazine circulated right here in the United States. Americans are being lured away from their very own land of opportunity.

Opportunity means different things to different people; that is the wallop in Puerto Rico's appeal.

Hundreds of thousands of Puerto Ricans have been coming to the mainland, principally New York City because they wanted to work. But there are mainlanders who logically should be moving to Puerto Rico because they are tired of working.

They can joll on the beaches and refresh their jaded spirits in native haunts where life is tuneless, colorful, carefree and pleasurable. They can do this because Puerto Ricans are citizens of the United States and vice versa. There will be no red tape, no waiting, no complications.

The South Sea island that millions have dreamed about is right down thataway, podner. You can be there for lunch tomorrow.

When the Yankee Doodles in Washington have pushed back their popped eyes, they should waste no time ringing up the governor of Puerto Rico and asking what he thinks he is doing, trying to entice away the population of the U.S.A.

'All Done By Mirrors'

Messrs. Khrushchev and Bulganin, the Volga River Happiness Boys, in their riotous sketch "Fun On The Welcome Mat" want to be sure they get as good a production on the British road tour as Malenkov got in his performance of "Little Lord Ivan Fauntleroy."

They served notice that they would object to anything less. But there are indications the British will not wholly respond with the early Spring production of "Let's Be Suckers" or "How Stupid Can You Get?"

It looks like there will be a banquet thrown by Anthony Eden and some sort of reception by the Queen, but Bulgy and Khrush will not be permitted to do the famed vaudeville laugher "While Walking Through The Park One Day," or put on a Soviet "Gallagher and Shean" act for world consumption.

THEY ARE NOT INTERESTED so much in England's electric light plants, atomic labs and steel works as they are in the tremendous gains to be secured by getting before the world a wide screen picture of top Soviet leaders as Rollo and Rover Boys Abroad.

For years our side has pictured the Comrades as dead-end street kids never warmly welcomed among respectable people. Now the British are being suckered into a situation where they present them as smiling, charm-school gentlemen never so happy as when kissing babies, giving the Chautauqua salute and helping old ladies cross busy streets. It's proceeding which makes many people rush for the aspirin bottle and cry, "The world scene is more screwball than I thought."

No strategic weapons being shipped to them could be of greater value to the Soviets than the official photographs which the Soviet will send all over the world showing their head men getting the "For I am the queen of the May" treatment by a free world nation.

What can a baffled Egyptian peasant think when he gets a load of these Commie chieftains being treated by our side like a Hollywood Oscar winner? How can an Asiatic farmhand think Britannia rules the waves if the photos show Malenkov, Bulganin and Khrushchev ruling the London reception committees? It's like expecting Little Miss Muffet to be scared stiff by spiders while she beholds the spiders occupying the fanciest float in a Mardi Gras parade.

IT'S GETTING TOUGH and tougher for neutral nations to answer "Is you or is you ain't?" under the deluge of stories picturing the Commie biggies as the boys who bring apples to teacher. Russia welcomes no free world delegations as if they were long lost relatives returning for Old Home Week.

There is talk of similar visits to the U. S. A. But would Khrushchev and his delegation come unless we agreed to the following events: Sunday—Khrushchev throw out first ball in crucial game between Dodgers and Glants.

Tuesday—Bulganin plants Siberian oak trees in Fifth Avenue.

Wednesday—Malenkov demonstrates Russian dancing in Times Square in morning and catches ball thrown from Washington Monument in Washington in the afternoon.

Thursday—Three Russian leaders sleep in Lincoln's bed in White House.

Friday—The U.N. is asked to rule on Khrushchev's request that he play golf with Eisenhower while Malenkov kisses the caddies.

Warns of Terror Of H-Weapons

Official Says Complete Destruction Possible

WASHINGTON (AP) — Civil Defense Chief Val Peterson said today the development of nuclear weapons has reached a stage where "the shadow of absolute destruction has been cast" over mankind.

In testimony prepared for a House Government Operations subcommittee, Peterson sketched what he said would be the terrible consequences of a war waged with hydrogen weapons.

"Starting Into Hell" He said that for the three years he has headed federal civil defense planning "I have been starting into hell" because:

"Man has now invented weapons of such destructiveness and the means for delivering these weapons over long distances that he has about reached the point—not quite yet, but about reached the point—where he can commit suicide upon this earth if he sees fit to indulge in a thermonuclear (hydrogen) war."

Could Destroy 60,000 Miles

He said 300 hydrogen weapons with an explosive force of 10 million tons each, if laid in the proper pattern, "could devastate or damage so severely as to render useless most installations in an area 60,000 square miles in extent."

Peterson said he and others responsible for civil defense recognize its shortcomings but that "there is serious question whether defense, civil or military, can ever be adequate—in any normal sense—to meet today's weapons and those of the future."

nounced list of gifts are such traditional standbys as coffee pots, electric mixers, toasters and kitchen equipment. No complaint about this has been heard from either Grace or the Prince.

Most of the gifts are valuable, or unusual.

Radio Monte Carlo is contributing a phonograph with special fittings in a sort of compass mount so the Prince can install it on his yacht.

French President Rene Coty sent two ship's wheels in rare wood. Rancier's yacht already has a wheel, which presumably is good for a number of years.

Egypt's ex-King Farouk is giving two sixth century Japanese vases once owned by the emperors of Japan. Britain's Queen Elizabeth II sent an inscribed gold and silver tray.

Conrad Hilton, President Eisenhower's personal representative for the wedding, said he brought the President's "best wishes" but no present from the White House. He didn't bring a present from himself either.

The Academy of Bordeaux Wines has sent an undisclosed amount of an excellent 26-year-old vintage to correspond with the bride's age. Other gifts of wine would stock any good-sized cellar.

Although the Prince's personal garage already bulges with nine cars, the Council of Monaco bought him a luxurious black and gray Rolls Royce. Racing driver Louis Chiron, an old friend, is sending a French Renault Dauphine.

Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday evening.

Grace Kelly

away Thursday after the religious ceremony on his yacht, the Deo Juvenile II.

Monday night, Grace was hostess to her bridesmaids at a party in the palace. The prince, who is living at his villa until after the wedding, was present for awhile, but the occasion was strictly for the girls.

Rainier also was in the background at Monday's rehearsal for the religious ceremony. He took no active part while Grace and her mother Mrs. John B. Kelly of Philadelphia went through the rehearsal motions.

The girls gathered around Grace at Monday night's party agreed to a minor conspiracy to keep one bit of news from her. They did not tell her about the theft of jewels from some of the wedding guests.

Those present included Mrs. Maree Pamp of Philadelphia, a bridesmaid from whom a burglar took gems valued at $10,000.

"I didn't want to do anything to distress Grace at such a moment and said nothing about it," Mrs. Pamp said. "Luckily I was wearing my wedding ring and had it with me at the party."

It was the second announced jewel loss by members of the Kelly party. Last Friday thieves took $45,000 in gems from the room of Mrs. Matthew McCloskey, wife of the national treasurer of the Democratic party.

One woman wedding guest, on hearing of Mrs. Pamp's loss, exclaimed: "Oh! That makes four."

Then seeing there were reporters around her, she refused to answer questions and added: "Oh! I've said too much."

Authorities denied knowledge of any unauthorized robberies.

Mrs. Pamp's jewels were taken from a case in her room when she was absent for a few hours.

Farm Bill

Harry Darby was reported to have told the group Kansas may turn out some Republican congressmen because of farm price dissatisfaction. The South Dakota delegation, headed by Senators Francis Case and Mundt, was said to have made it clear they don't want Secretary of Agriculture Benson campaigning in their states.

Hall said the farm bill veto "won't make my job any tougher," but he indicated rather clearly the Republicans hope to make up in the big cities any votes they might lose in farm areas.

"To my mind, the Republican party is doing all right in the cities," he said.

Hall said the Democrats in Congress had "stalled" action on farm legislation. He intimated they deliberately sent Eisenhower a bill they hoped he would veto.

"The President was absolutely right in vetoing the farm bill and he will be sustained by the American people," he said.

He said the farm situation "is not as I would like it," but he said he doesn't think it will cost the Republicans any states in the November presidential election.

"In my opinion the veto will help the Republican party," he said. He added he thinks Eisenhower's proposal for new soil bank legislation—which Congress may not pass—and for price support increases "will take care of the economic picture quite well" in the farm areas.

Dissents to the veto action appeared to be limited among the Republicans to states in the Midwest where which depend largely on one crop. GOP workers from states where diversified farming is the rule voiced no public complaints.

Soil Bank

and put it to conservation uses. The soil bank was one feature of the bill which Eisenhower vetoed Monday.

Rebuffed White House

But in a major rebuff to the White House, the Democratic-controlled Congress linked it with other major farm law changes which Eisenhower opposed.

"It was confusing," he said Monday night, "in some respects self-defeating and so awkward and clumsy as to make its administration difficult or impractical."

We got a hedge podge in which the bad provisions more than canceled out the good."

Democratic leaders who have defended the measure as the best and quickest way to get more money into farmers' pockets have said they do not expect Congress to approve any substitute bill.

There was no indication that this attitude had changed because of Eisenhower's revised recommendation on the soil bank. Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said Monday:

"Congress is not going to roll over and play dead at the crack of a whip."

Rep. Poage (D-Tex.), a senior member of the House Agriculture Committee, said in an interview today that "the soil bank alone is out — it won't add one cent to the farmers' income."

Poage professed to see a chance that the House would vote to override Eisenhower's veto "if the Republicans who voted with us last week will vote with us again, and if the Democrats all stick together."

See Little Hope

Speaker of the House Rayburn (D-Tex.) refused to make any prediction, however, and other Democratic leaders held out little hope they could override the veto.

The House passed the bill 237-181 last week. If the same number of members voted, it would require 279 votes to override the veto. And there were signs that at least some of the 48 Republicans who voted for the bill would not vote to override the Republican President's veto.

Several said they accepted Eisenhower's decision although they would have been happier if he had approved the bill.

None of them endorsed publicly the assertion by GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall that the veto will help Republican chances in the November elections for control of the White House and Congress.

"The President was absolutely right in vetoing the farm bill and his decision will be sustained by the American people," Hall said. Hall's Democratic counterpart, Paul M. Butler, called the veto "a direct blow from the President himself," and he added in a statement:

"Farmers not only have been injured by the President's refusal to go along with Congress on this vital issue, but they have been insulted by the President's decision, three years late, to raise price supports a few cents on a few commodities."

That was a reference to Eisenhower's decision, announced in the veto message, to raise price supports on five basic crops from previously announced or prospective levels.

Chairman Ellender (D-La.) of the Senate Agriculture Committee said it seemed strange to raise the wheat support price "with wheat running out of our ears."

He said his committee might make "a little investigation to find out how the laws on our statute books can be manipulated."

The Agriculture Department estimated that the effect of the changes Eisenhower announced would be to add about 600 million dollars to farm income this year, assuming average harvests.

The Democratic-sponsored bill, the department said, would have upped price support payments by about 850 millions on top of that.

Grand Jury

gram was urged upon new members of the police force, also promotions in the department were not based on training or experience and it would appear to the grand jury that the best equipped men for the force were patrolmen who had taken special training on their own time but had not been promoted.

"3. We believe the present chief of police is totally ignorant of the responsibilities of his position and wholly incapable of administering duties of his department or enforcing the law."

"4. We believe Capt. Chester C. Smith and Lt. George Kidd are inefficient officers and wholly unfit for their duties."

"5. Evidence presented to this Grand Jury was to the effect that a union official from Smiths Ferry, Pa., lost approximately $800 in local gambling joints. This condition was brought before Chief Russell. Capt. Smith was instructed by Chief Russell to recover this sum."

Capt. Smith contacted owners of the Valley Club and the Academy Club and recovered the $800, which was returned to the said union official. No arrests were made.

"6. We believe the testimony given this jury by Officer Don Goodball is sufficient to ask for his immediate dismissal from the force."

Testimony disclosed Goodball was intoxicated on duty, admitted to frequenting gambling joints in and around the city, admitted borrowing and attempting to borrow money from gamblers and borrowing a car from a person suspected of being implicated in burglaries in the city.

"7. Testimony showed that in the past the Civil Service Commission appointed by the mayor has not been impartial in conducting examinations, nor has this commission been wise in their choice of selectees."

"8. Nothing contained in this report should be construed as a blanket indictment against the police force as a whole. We believe a number of the present force would be and are capable of being good officers if provided with training and permitted to conduct their duties without interference."

"9. It was the unanimous opinion of this Grand Jury that under the present police organization the laws cannot be enforced by the present police force. Evidence presented to this Grand Jury by patrolmen, lieutenants, the captain of the force, and present chief of the police force, the immediate past director of safety, and the present and previous mayor, was to the effect that although gambling was known to exist, no arrests were ordered because citizens did not complain."

Findings concerning gambling in East Liverpool follow:

"1. That until the convening of this Grand Jury there has existed in East Liverpool for some years past open and extensive gambling operations, consisting of poker, craps, roulette, and other forms of chance."

"2. All evidence presented to this Grand Jury indicated that such gambling is known to and exists with the consent of the police and the police officers, and the mayor and service director."

"No. 3. Police records do not show any arrest during 1954 or 1955 for gambling in East Liverpool."

"4. Examination of records of the 1945 Grand Jury show the same gamblers and the same places of gambling as are reported to this Grand Jury."

"5. The American Club, the Academy Club and the Valley Club operated with the knowledge of the police and that on Feb. 25, 1956, these places were raided and that the police officers did not confiscate the equipment was removed before padlock proceedings were instituted."

"6. This Grand Jury recommends that the owners of the premises occupied by known gamblers be held for court action and that padlock proceedings be initiated against a property used for gambling."

"7. This Grand Jury feels that certain members of the police force know the existence of gambling in East Liverpool and would like to close such places. Because of the attitude of their superiors they are discouraged from such action.

"8. That numbers or lottery tickets are being sold in East Liverpool by syndicates headed by certain individuals from outside our city. That one Otto Stockdale is a pickup man for this operation and he has some 15 or 20 writers working for him. That the so-called numbers business is small compared to the previous take, but vigilance should be exercised by the police at all times and any and all writers should be arrested whenever or wherever they are found."

The jury's recommendations included city groups and individuals demand enforcement of all laws, the mayor should be held responsible for enforcement of all laws, all fines and imprisonment be made with intent to eliminate gambling, all owners and lessees of property used for gambling be punished, all gambling equipment be confiscated and destroyed, that morale of police be improved, and that there should be "complete reorganization of the police department."

Judge Sharp complimented the grand jury on a "splendid job, bringing in indictments where indictments were in order."

British Prepare For Red Chiefs

Scotland Yard Set With Elaborate Guard

LONDON (AP) — Scotland Yard called a last-minute dress rehearsal today of the elaborate security arrangements it will throw around Soviet Premier Bulganin and Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev, due in Britain Wednesday morning.

The Yard pressed its biggest peacetime check to put on ice known British and foreign Communist-haters who might try to annoy or assassinate the two Russian leaders during their 10-day official tour.

Claridge Hotel, where the visitors will occupy a 50-room suite, swarmed with Soviet officials and guards and with British policemen in and out of uniform.

Apartment and office buildings in the area were searched. Their occupants were questioned and more than 1,000 names were taken.

Every window looking on the Russians' rooms was charted. A particularly close watch was kept on refugees from Communist countries.

Bulganin and Khrushchev, meanwhile, sailed steadily toward Portsmouth aboard the cruiser Orlanokidze. Moscow radio gave this description of life aboard the ship:

"There is great interest among the crew in everything connected with England. Officers and ratings (seamen) take part in song and dance groups. Eloquence is another feature of the program. The latest, incidentally, includes poems by Robert Burns and some of Shakespeare's sonnets."

Two Soviet aircraft arrived with a load of vodka, champagne and caviar for the functions at which the Russians will return British hospitality. An advance group of Soviet officials also came in.

DiSalle Sees Biggest Party Win Since '36

STUEBENVILLE, Ohio — Michael V. DiSalle predicts the Democratic party's greatest victory in Ohio since 1936.

DiSalle, campaigning for his party's gubernatorial nomination, told 250 fellow Democrats Monday night he was "not much concerned" because of his certainty of a great Democratic victory in the fall.

The former Toledo mayor based his prediction for 1956 in part on his estimation that President Eisenhower's farm program is losing Ohio for the Republicans.

"Rural Ohio is in revolt," DiSalle asserted.

CIRCLEVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Robert W. Reider, one of five candidates for governor, advocates annual rather than biennial sessions of the General Assembly.

Reider, speaking before a Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner Monday night, said annual meetings of the Legislature would curb government by "decree, regulation and commission."

Reider also called for "a close and cooperative working relationship between the governor and the Legislature."

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — William Saxbe, Republican candidate for attorney general, Monday termed Ohio's water laws "archaic and antiquated," warning that they must be brought up to date or "agriculture and industry are going to collide head-on."

In a letter to the Ohio Farm Bureau, Saxbe said it was unfortunate that "industry has been forced to go underground for water in areas adjacent to agricultural lands."

ASHTABULA IMPROVES HARBOR — ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — City Manager Ned V. Collander says private interests and the federal government are spending more than nine million dollars to enlarge the harbor here.

The money is being used to add to the port's 30,000 feet of dock frontage and its storage space for four million bulk tons of cargo, Collander said Monday.

The first ship to use a new 3,200-foot channel and new docks left here Sunday with a cargo of ferro alloys bound for Saginaw, Mich.

The harbor is being improved in anticipation of increased lake traffic following completion of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Boy, 2, Makes Meal Of Rusty Nails, Gasoline

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — Jerry Leighton, 2, said he was still hungry after emergency hospital attendants relieved him of a meal of rusty nails, washed down with gasoline. The nails, disclosed by X-ray, were a surprise to everybody but Jerry's mother, Mrs. Betty Leighton. She said her son has "a tremendous appetite." Jerry, evidently undamaged, asked for a cookie as he left the hospital.

Fultz Is Named Head Of Boys' State School

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — T. Lyndon Fultz, 53, has been appointed superintendent of the Boy's Industrial School at Lancaster.

The appointment was made Monday by John R. Ferguson, chief of the state division of juvenile research, classification and training, with the approval of Dr. John D. Porterfield, director of the state department of mental hygiene and correction, and the consent of the division's advisory council.

Fultz has held temporary appointment as superintendent since April, 1955, when Col. Harold L. Hays resigned the $12,500 a year post to become Ohio director of selective service. Fultz formerly was assistant superintendent of the BIS.

Fultz, a member of the staff since 1940, first served as administrative staff member and supervisor of the recreation department. He became assistant superintendent in February, 1954.

Fultz is a graduate of Ohio University and presently is the adjutant general, 37th Infantry Division, of the Ohio National Guard. Ferguson, in announcing the appointment, issued this statement: "Dr. Porterfield, the advisory council and I feel that Mr. Fultz has, during the past year, evidenced an ability to do the job that needs to be done at BIS in connection with Ohio's overall program for problem juveniles. We are pleased to extend him this vote of confidence through formalization of his appointment as superintendent."

1 Killed, 11 Hurt By Freak Wind

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A freak 86-mile-an-hour wind hit suburban Willow Grove without warning Monday, causing one death, injuries to 11 persons and damage totaling $100,000.

The death and injuries resulted from the toppling of a 20-foot wall of cinder blocks at a construction project opposite the Willow Grove Naval Air Station. Construction worker Thibert White, 45, of Philadelphia, died under a pile of blocks.

Seven of the injured were tumbled into the fallen masonry while the others were struck by pieces of wreckage.

Electronic Traffic Cop To Aid In Landing Planes

CINCINNATI (AP) — An electronic traffic cop that will help land 120 planes an hour was unveiled here Monday by Avco Manufacturing Corp.

A "memory" section of the machine sets up a safe heading, altitude and speed for a plane that enters its radar scope, an Avco spokesman said.

The system, which can handle 14 planes at a time, guides each aircraft in to an "entry point" about two miles away from touchdown—where the airport landing control system takes over final steps.

The production model will be tested this summer. An experimental model developed by Air Force researchers, underwent lengthy flight tests in 1952-53 at Clinton County Air Force base near Wilmington.

Warren City Employees Don't Receive Pay

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — The city's tills contained enough cash today, but Warren officials lacked the authority to pay employees or buy gasoline for fire engines.

Gas tanks for the engines and for police cars are being kept full on credit. But the 400 employees in this Northeast Ohio city of 50,000 passed through a payless pay day Monday.

City Council last night was unable to override Republican Mayor William Burbank's veto of an appropriations bill.

The council, with Democrats holding a 6-4 edge, had passed a $1,291,000 bill. The mayor said the bill eliminated or reduced salaries of nine appointees. The Democrats said the cuts were made in the interest of economy. The Republicans said they were made in the interest of politics.

No settlement of the financial impasse was in sight. Meanwhile, municipal court, sanitation, city engineers and parks departments reported drastic cuts in service.

Negro Students Set To Resume Classes

HILLSBORO, Ohio (AP) — Most of the 24 Negro youngsters kept out of school here in a lengthy segregation dispute are slated to start classes again today.

Parents of 11 of the students Monday protested that the children were being assigned to lower grades than they were fitted for.

But the parents finally agreed to enroll the youngsters in the Webster-Washington school grades assigned by school officials after scholarship tests given last Friday.

The children were the center of a court fight lasting nearly two years over alleged segregation in Hillsboro elementary schools.

The dispute finally reached the U. S. Supreme Court which upheld an appellate court order calling for immediate integration of the children.

Of the seven children enrolled Monday, six went into the first grade and one went into the third grade. One youngster failed to be accepted into the first grade which is slated to end classes in about a month.

Five of the youngsters failed to take the tests on Friday. No explanation was given.

Credit Men's Group Holds Dinner Tonight

Salem members will attend when the Youngstown Association of Credit Men holds its spring dinner meeting tonight at the Youngstown Country Club.

The speaker will be Dr. Eugene Beach, pastor of the Christian Church in that city.

POULTRY PRODUCER DIES

GREENVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Paul J. Gasson, 43, nationally-known poultry producer, died Monday at his farm home near Versailles.

Gasson had been president of the Poultry Producers Assn. cooperative since its establishment in 1939. He was also a former president of the Ohio Hatchery Assn., the Ohio Federated Egg and Poultry Assn. and the Ohio Poultry Improvement Assn.

Many Questions Confront Managers As '56 Season Opens

Yanks, Dodgers Have Problems

250,000 Expected At Opening Games

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Will Brooklyn dash from the barrier for 10 straight, as it did last year? Did the Yankees pick up pennant insurance when they got southpaw Maury McDermott from Washington? Are the Boston Red Sox improved sufficiently to wrest the American League title from New York?

Which team got the better of the deal that sent Larry Doby to Chicago and Chico Carrasquel to Cleveland last winter? Can rookie Luis Aparicio fill Carrasquel's shoes at shortstop for the White Sox?

These were some of the questions confronting managers today as the 1956 major league season got under way in eight cities.

Although tabbed as heavy favorites to meet again in the World Series, the Yankees and Dodgers like the 14 other clubs, are beset with problems. The Yankees are vulnerable at shortstop and in the relief department. Their biggest headache may come from their strongest department — the outfield. Although Mickey Mantle has given promise this spring of fulfilling his tremendous potential, there is a constant concern over his damaged legs.

Hank Bauer, still not fully recovered from the groin injury that cut short his World Series action, is playing despite a specialist's orders to rest for an entire season. Should their outfielder be made unavailable for any length of time, the Yankees would be in trouble.

Brooklyn is plagued by pitching miseries. The departure of Johnny Podres, the lame arm of Billy Loes and Karl Spooner and the uncertainty of Carl Erskine to pitch the full season with a balky elbow should prevent a romp such as last year.

Approximately 250,000 spectators, barring bad weather, were expected to view the openers. A crowd of some 28,500 was assured at Washington, where President Eisenhower was all set to uncork the first "pitch," the signal for the official opening of the '56 season. The scheduled pitchers were Don Larsen (9-2) for New York and Camilo Pascual (2-12) for Washington.

A pitching duel was in prospect in Chicago where Cleveland's ace right-hander Bob Lemon (18-10) clashes with Billy Pierce (15-10).

At Detroit, Frank Lary (14-15), the Tigers' sophomore right-hander, was given the assignment against the Kansas City Athletics' wily southpaw Alex Kellner (11-8).

In Boston, it will be Ted Williams' first opener since 1952. Right-hander Frank Sullivan (18-13) was slated to face Bill Wight (6-8), Baltimore's veteran left-hander.

The largest National League crowd (43,000) was expected at Milwaukee. Lew Burdette (13-8) hurled against the Chicago Cubs who had Bob Rush (13-11) all primed.

Another brilliant pitching duel was in the offing at Brooklyn where the league's only 20-game winners were almost certain to square off. Robin Roberts (23-14) for Philadelphia and Don Newcombe (20-5) for Brooklyn were the main attraction.

At the Polo Grounds, the Giants, behind southpaw ace Johnny Antonelli (14-16), were primed for their opener against Pittsburgh with Bob Friend (14-9) on the mound.

In Cincinnati, the Cardinals, with Vinegar Bend Mizell on the mound, were the opposition. The Reds' opening choice was Joe Nuxhall (17-12).

HEADS CANFIELD FIELD — Iggy Katona of Milan, Mich., who won the 1955 MRC new car championship, will be one of the favored drivers in the Canfield Speedway opener Saturday night. Katona won eight feature races last year. Saturday he will be driving a 1956 Ford. At least 45 cars will be on hand to give Katona plenty of competition and 25 of them will be 1956 model cars.

Ike To Throw Out 1st Ball At Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—New York's pennant defending veterans do battle today with Washington's pink-cheeked youngsters before President Eisenhower and an anticipated gathering of 28,500 in Griffith Stadium.

Following a tradition that goes back almost half century, Eisenhower was scheduled to throw out the first ball to make official the start of the 1956 baseball season.

The weather forecast was partly cloudy and windy with the temperature around the 50s.

Eisenhower planned to arrive at the stadium 15 minutes before the 12:30 p.m. (CST) starting time to fling the replica of an oldtime baseball into a mass of scrambling Yankees and Senators. The President expected to stay for at least part of the game.

He's a fan, and in the past surprised the late Clark Griffith, the Senators' long-time president, with his knowledge of players and records. Mickey Vernon was an Eisenhower favorite, but the lanky first baseman has since gone to the Boston Red Sox.

Against a Yankee lineup including only one newcomer, shortstop Jerry Lumpe, Washington Manager Chuck Dressen fielded a collection of big league newcomers seasoned by only three experienced hands — Roy Sievers at first, Pete Runnels at second and Eddie Yost at third.

Six of the Senators were playing in a major league opener for the first time. Among them is Camilo Pascual (2-12), chosen to oppose the Yankees' Don Larsen (9-2) in a duel of righthanded pitchers.

High School Boys Beat Colleges In Swim Meets

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — A tankful of Sacramento high school boys are splashing their way to swimming renown by whipping the college boys.

A year and a half ago they matched strokes and dives with the varsity at the University of California at Los Angeles and ended up with 14 points to spare.

Already this season they have sunk the varsities of San Jose State College, California Polytechnic and the College of the Pacific. In 15 starts they've lost only once. Last season they dropped two.

The boys swim under the banner of the suburban Arden Hills Swimming and Tennis Club, although they attend two different high schools.

Berrios Scores Decision Over Bobby Bell

NEW YORK (AP)—Miguel Berrios, a pint-sized featherweight with a big book and a big heart, today dared champion Sandy Saddler and French contender Cherif Hamia to take him on.

The 5-2, 23-year-old Puerto Rican who now lives in New York issued his challenge to the top 126-pounders after beating experienced Bobby Bell of Youngstown, Ohio, in a televised 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena.

A solid right to the chin in the final round staggered the 27-year-old Bell and gave Miguel his second straight split verdict over the Ohioan and his fourth consecutive win.

"I'm going to the commission this week and post a forfeit check for a title fight with Saddler," said manager Jimmy DeAngelo as his tiny gladiator vigorously nodded his head. "If the commission wants us to fight Hamia first that's okay with us. We'll be ready to oblige."

"Billy Brown (matchmaker for the International Boxing Club) wanted Carmelo Costa to fight Miguel but Costa didn't want any part of him. He took Hamia instead and got licked. We're not ducking anyone."

Hamia, an impressive importation, whipped Costa, second ranking featherweight contender, in the Garden March 30. The aggressive hard-hitting Frenchman has an early May date with Ike Chestnut in Washington ahead.

Since being discharged from the U.S. Army, Berrios has been a ball of fire. The Puerto Rican dynamo stopped Pat Marcune and Bobby Courchesne and outpointed Bell twice. His record now was 16-5.

Princeton Defeats Navy Crew By 3 Lengths

NEW YORK (AP)—"Don't count the Admirals out."

That's the word from college rowing coaches who hope to beat Navy's Admirals, the 1952 Olympic championship crew, for the honor of representing Uncle Sam in the Melbourne games.

The Admirals, stroked by Ed Stevens, never tasted defeat between 1952 and 1954 when they racked up 29 straight in the Academy's colors. The fact that they were defeated last Saturday by Princeton was no surprise. That the Tigers' green crew turned the trick was a definite upset, however.

"The season's young and don't count the Admirals out," said Dutch Schoch, coach of Princeton's upstarts. "The Admirals have plenty of time yet."

Princeton whopped the Admirals by three lengths with the Navy varsity another two lengths astern in a 1 3/4-mile race on the Severn at Annapolis last Saturday.

Archie Moore Wins Over Parmentier On TKO

SEATTLE (AP)—Light heavyweight champ Archie Moore, almost having to leap to land his blows, easily disposed of tall George Parmentier in the third round of a scheduled 10-round non-title fight here Monday night.

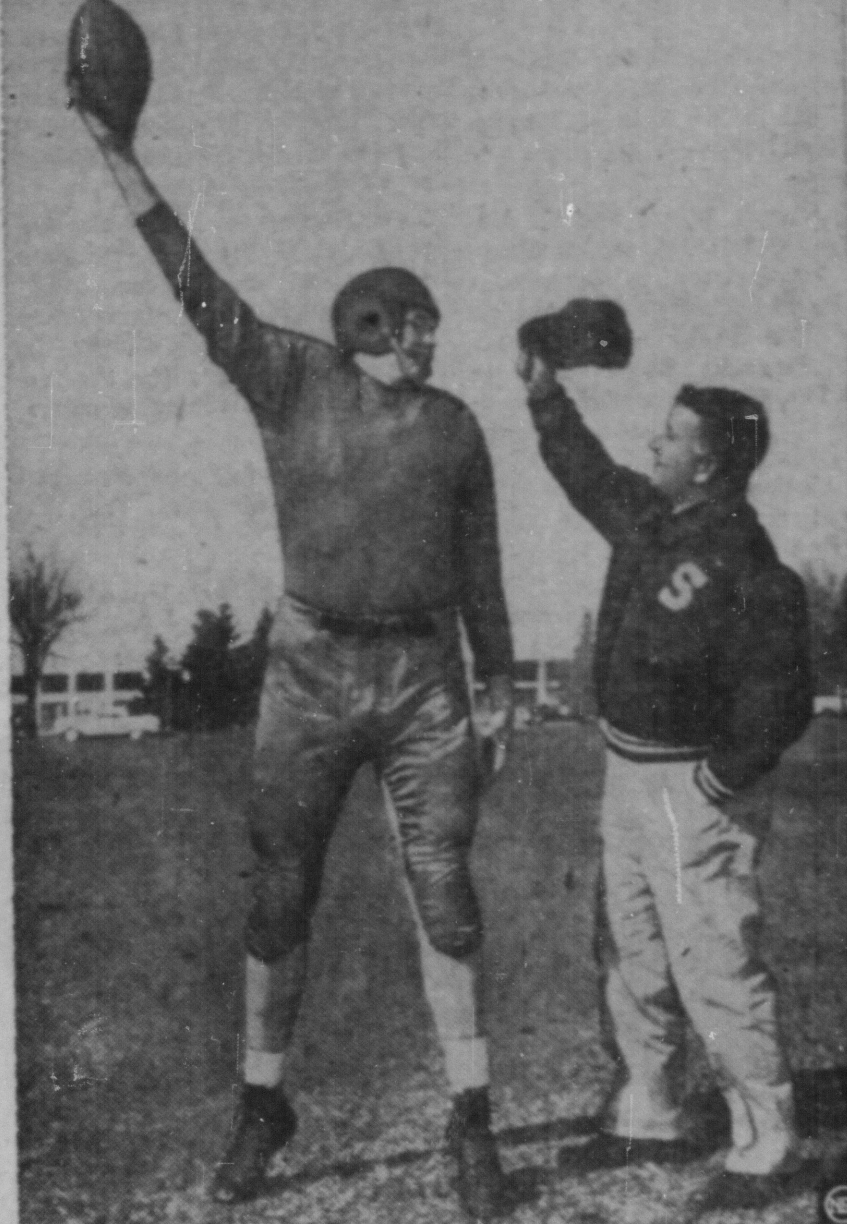

Moore, weighing in at 193, dropped the 233-pound, 6-foot 5-inch giant from Eureka, Calif., three times in the third round. The referee called the fight after Parmentier twice had taken the compulsory eight count.

LEADS WOMEN'S TOURNEY

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A Cleveland team holds the actual pins lead today in the Ohio women's bowling tournament.

Brunner Dresses, although leading with 2,806 in actual pins, is in third place when the handicap is figured. Town and Country Jewelers of Dayton has a 3,088 handicap score for first place, followed by Dayton Stokers with 2,052.

Sunday's bowling, the 11th of 14 weekend roll - offs, produced no other changes among the leaders.

DUFFY'S DELIGHT—Coach Duffy Daugherty doffs his cap expressing amazement at the stature of Sammy Williams, the 25-year-old end working with the Michigan State squad in spring practice. Did not play college football, yet already has been drafted by the professional Los Angeles Rams. The young man from Dansville, Mich., played while in the service.

Alston Worried About Pitchers As Dodgers Open Pennant Fight

By ED CORRIGAN

BROOKLYN (AP)—Walt Alston, king of the sovereign state of Flatbush, principality of Brooklyn, wore a thoughtful look today as he prepared to lead his world champion Dodgers into their first combat of 1956.

"If our pitching comes through, we'll be all right," opined the former school master who plotted the Brooks to their first world's championship in history last season.

"It has looked bad generally in the South," he added, frowning just a little.

Possibly he was thinking back to the preseason statements of his predecessors — Leo Durocher, Barney Shotton and Chuck Dressen. Their problem always was pitching, too.

Big Don Newcombe, the star in the opener against the Philadelphia Phillies, was a case in point. Newk is being counted on to act as bellwether of the staff.

"But he's been blowing hot and cold all spring," sighed Alston.

The lefthanded brigade of Brooklyn pitchers is vanishing before Alston's very eyes. Johnny Podres of World Series fame, is in the Navy, Karl Spooner has a sore arm, and Ken Lehman, who was the heir-apparent to Podres, job, has failed to live up to expectations.

"We have been hard hit by injuries," observed Alston, "and under the circumstances, a heavier burden has been placed on our youngsters, Roger Craig, Sandy Koufax and Don Bessent."

An indication of how desperate the Brooks are for mound help can be seen in the case of 19-year-old Don Drysdale, who now is a member of the staff, although he has just a season and a half of professional experience. He would be sent back to the minors in an ordinary year, but he has done well in the South and even at his tender age, he has impressed Alston.

"I wouldn't care if he was 15," said Alston. "If he can win for us he'll be one of our starters."

The rest of the club doesn't worry the skipper. It shouldn't. There is so much power down the lineup, it would carry even a riddled pitching staff.

OLYMPIC TRAINERS NAMED

NEW YORK (AP)—Wallace Bock, Hudson, Ohio, and J. Colville of Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, have been selected as trainers for the U.S. Olympic team which will appear in Melbourne, Australia, next November.

WINS TOURNEY FOR BLIND

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Ohio State Blind Bowling Assn. tournament's singles crown was won last night by Jerry Woodward of Cleveland, who rolled 521 and had a 138-pin handicap. The doubles championship was won by Dick Brumbaugh of Canton and Bob Jeschling of Cleveland, who compiled a 1215 total.

Youngster Decisions Nino Valdes

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A California youth with only 58 rounds of professional boxing shapes up today as the newest sensation in the heavyweight ranks. He is undefeated with 13 straight victories.

Young Eddie Machen, striking with a sharp and sinning left, cut hulking Nino Valdes, No. 3 in the world heavyweight ranks, down to size Monday night in taking an upset unanimous decision before a wildly partisan crowd of about 6,000 at the Cow Palace.

The 23-year-old Negro from Redding, Calif., inflicted only slight damage on the big Cuban but piled up enough points to win on all three official cards.

Valdes weighed 212; Machen 193.

Valdes, who speaks only Spanish, exploded in broken English that he was "robbed."

Bobby Gleason, Valdes' manager, concurred but called Machen a "pretty good looking boy."

"I insisted on a return bout clause before I signed," Gleason said. "I didn't think we lost, but I did tell Nino when the 9th round started that he better go out and KO the kid or he'd lose."

The jubilant Machen said he would fight anyone.

"Hurricane Jacksona," Eddie said. "Valdes beat him so why can't I?"

Scoring, under California's 11-point system, was judge Toby Irwin 56½ to 53½, judge Fred Apostoli 56-54 and referee Jack Downey 55½-54½.

New York Loses Bid For Army-Irish Game

NEW YORK (AP)—This city, which prides itself in doing things bigger and better than any place else, has lost its bid for the renewal of the colorful Army-Notre Dame football series because it isn't big enough.

Philadelphia, with its 100,000-seat Municipal Stadium and a gross gate expected to top the best New York could offer by $190,000, will get the game instead. It also has been the site of recent Army-Navy games.

Game time is Oct. 12, 1957 — ending a 10-year break in football rivalry between the two institutions.

Yankee Stadium, with a maximum capacity of 74,000, was the site New York had to offer, but Lt. Gen. Blackshear M. Bryan, superintendent of the U.S. Military Academy, said he "reluctantly" had to choose Philadelphia because of greater seating capacity and the prospect of greater revenue.

He announced his decision after conferring with Mayor Robert Wagner of New York and George Weiss, general manager of the New York Yankee Baseball Club, Monday. He indicated he would confer with Yankee officials about bringing some other Army game to New York.

Mayor Wagner said the situation pointed up the need for a larger stadium in New York. A bill setting up a tax-free authority to build a 30-million-dollar home for the Brooklyn Dodgers currently is being considered by Gov. Harriman and the Borough of Manhattan is talking about a 110,000-seat stadium for the New York Giants.

Softball Assn. To Hold Spring Meeting Thursday

The regular spring meeting of the Salem Softball Association will be held Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Memorial Building.

Players and managers are requested to attend.

'Wild Statements' Attributed To Walcott on Boxing Rackets

CHICAGO (AP)—Alleged irregularities in Illinois boxing were described as "wild statements" Monday in a grand jury investigation.

Appearing before the Cook County grand jury were former heavyweight champion Jersey Joe Walcott and ex-fight manager Jack Begun.

Both men met with state's attorney John Gutknecht before testifying before the grand jury.

"I is evident," said Gutknecht, "that the statements made recently (by Walcott and Begun) in connection with the boxing game are wild statements. No factual information was brought to the state's attorney's attention."

"Unless other witnesses volunteer that they have knowledge of actual corruption in the Cook County or Illinois boxing game, there is no action that can be taken at this time."

Walcott last week said he felt boxing should be "cleaned up" while appearing on a local television show in connection with his promotional work in the boxing movie "The Harder They Fall."

The former champion and Louis Radzienda, a member of the Illinois Athletic Commission and president of the National Boxing Assn., engaged in a verbal scrap over alleged crookedness in boxing on the show.

Begun had written in a Chicago amusement circular that the March 14 welterweight title bout in which Johnny Saxton lifted Carmen Basilio's title was a "phony decision."

Begun said it made the Boston Brink's Robbery "look like a 2-year-old."

Gutknecht said Begun had no evidence to support his statements made in the article about the Saxton-Basilio fight.

"I know nothing of corruption in boxing in Chicago or Cook County," Walcott told newsmen. "But you can read in the newspapers that there are bad things in boxing in all major cities throughout the United States."

The grand jury reportedly queried Walcott about his first round knockout by champion Rocky Marciano in Chicago three years ago and Walcott reportedly answered "I just got knocked out."

cars ARE MY Line
by Al Parker
A few weeks ago in a large eastern city a young woman was driving home along a narrow, busy street. Her wheels stuck in the street car tracks and plowed the car head-first into the front of a heavy tow truck. It was a bad smash-up but the girl stepped out with only a few scrapes and bumps.

The police officer who investigated the accident wrote in his report: "In my opinion, she escaped more serious injury because of the safety belt in the car."

This was probably the first spontaneous and unrehearsed accident in which a car safety belt proved its worth. Their advantage, of course, is that they hold the driver, and his passengers, tight in their seats when the car stops suddenly, keeping them away from the windshield, dashboard and steering wheel.

Many safety organizations have sung the praises of safety belts and some police departments have had them installed in their cruisers.

It's a gloomy subject, but one which should be considered sanely and frankly. My feeling has been that the safety belt in itself doesn't prevent accidents and may, in fact, cause more accidents. Any device which makes a cocksure driver more cocksure, which virtually assures a smart aleck that he can do anything he wants without fear of being hurt, is liable to put a new breed of menace on the road.

For my money, the best safety devices are those which actually prevent accidents, a responsive engine, reliable steering and good brakes.

These are the factors that get our closest attention when a car comes on to our lot for resale. It is part of our responsibility, we feel, to send cars onto the road that are as safe as the best mechanics can make them.

Permits Issued For $302,350 In Construction

Construction in Salem pulled out of its winter slump with permits covering construction totaling $302,350 issued during the first two weeks in April.

Of the 11 building permits issued by Mayor Dean B. Cranmer, the largest was for the $250,000 expansion program of the Salem City Hospital. The hospital is presently building an 18-room, 90 by 90 foot addition with a 40 by 40 foot boiler room.

The construction of four new homes was also begun during the two-week period. Permits were issued to Carmine Juliano for the construction of a $9,000 four-room home and garage at 976 Fair St. Sam Rea Jr. for the construction of a $15,000 six room frame and brick veneer home and garage at 375 Rea Drive and to Glen Couchie for the construction of a $9,500 five-room brick veneer house and garage at 930 Fair St. and a $11,000 five-room brick veneer house and garage at 950 Fair St.

Other permits granted were: Salem Lumber Co., Inc., $500, aluminum lumber storage building at the rear of 397 E. 8th St.; Mrs. Edith Archibald, $350, repair of a porch and garage at 1561 Maple St. Albert C. Zoccol, $1,000, addition at 301 W. 14th St.; Rollan Ritchey, $1,200, residing of a house at 1481 S. Lincoln Ave.; Florence C. Hill, $1,300, residing of a house at 931 Home Circle; Sam Rea Jr., $1,500, frame room addition at 891 Trimble St.; H. E. Secrest, $500, remodeling of a kitchen at 125 Park Drive; and Sam Rea Jr., $1,000, remodeling of a bathroom at 518 S. Lincoln Ave.

Cloud Kid

remodeling of a bathroom at 518 S. Lincoln Ave.

During March, only six building permits, for an estimated value of construction of $4,800 were issued. In February, four building permits were granted for an estimated valuation of $21,650.

During April, 1955, 26 building permits were issued for an estimated valuation of $101,165.

Ike's Talk to Editors Will Be Broadcast

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower's address to the American Society of Newspaper Editors in Washington Saturday will be broadcast over major radio networks and CBS-TV from 9 to 9:30 p.m. CST.

The speech will be broadcast over the ABC, NBC, CBS and Mutual radio networks. NBC-TV will carry a film of the speech at 10 p.m.

At 10:30 p.m. Saturday, CBS, NBC and Mutual radio and CBS-TV and NBC-TV will broadcast Kentucky Sen. Alben Barkley's speech at the Woodrow Wilson centennial celebration, under auspices of the Democratic National Committee, in Washington.

Boy with Leukemia Gets Christmas in Spring

CINCINNATI (AP)—It was Christmas in April Monday for young Johnnie Angel in Good Samaritan Hospital.

The 10-year-old boy wondered briefly why the holiday came in spring, but he was too busy opening presents to wonder very long.

His parents Mr. and Mrs. John Angel, haven't told him yet that he has an incurable blood disease — leukemia.

When doctors said the boy might not live until December, they decided to give him "one more" Christmas.

His doctor said that good medical care and blood might help prolong the lad's life.

COLUMBUS REJECTS FLUORIDE

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Columbus City Council Monday night voted down a proposal to add fluoride to the city's water supply.

The vote was 4 to 3 against the fluoridation measure.

Councilmen said the vote spelled the end to the program in Columbus barring an initiative petition.

IDEAL FAMILY HOME

What could you offer that family of yours that would give them more happiness, pleasure and security than a home of their own? This is an ideal location. The kitchen has been newly remodeled with Mullins sink, snack bar, plenty of cupboard space, inlaid linoleum and is very cheerful and attractive. The other three rooms downstairs are very nice, drapes and carpet to be included. Four very lovely bedrooms with plenty of closet space. Bathroom is tiled and has new Crane fixtures. The third floor is finished and includes a 27-inch Homart window fan with automatic timer. There is a new 45 gallon automatic hot water tank. Basement is large enough to have a recreation room. Lot is 2 1/2 feet deep, has room for small garden and there would be room left over for a nice lawn. The patio and the fireplace is most attractively placed to spend many happy hours in the summer. Two car garage. This is a home well worth having and we are serious when we say THE PRICE IS SO RIGHT. You will hardly believe you can buy this home when we tell you the sale price.

THE RIGHT TO KNOW

Wilson Used AP For War Propaganda

By KENT COOPER
By North American Newspaper Alliance

When authenticity of the German foreign minister's message of Jan. 19, 1917, was finally confirmed to the government's satisfaction, Frank L. Polk, assistant secretary of state, offered the idea that was adopted. This was a month after the decoded German message had been in hand.

Polk's suggestion to Secretary Lansing was that the reputation for accuracy of the country's oldest press association be used exclusively to disclose the news of the proposed German-Mexican alliance. Mr. Lansing gained President Wilson's approval and gave the message secretly to the press association for exclusive publication, with the stipulation that no indication of its source be given—the disclosure to appear an unusual case of enterprising news collection by The Associated Press and not an announcement by the Wilson administration.

THE STRATEGY worked. The press association, on Feb. 28, 1917, was glad to get the sensational, exclusive story from the State Department. Thereupon, as if on its own authority, it prepared to distribute to the newspapers the decoded German communication as having been sent by Germany, priding itself on its "scoop."

Since the communication came to it from the State Department, the press association had every reason to believe it was authentic. However, the press association showed hesitancy in permitting the dispatch to be sent out by the Washington office when the department confided that the copy of the decoded note had been furnished by the British four weeks previously.

When the possibility of a hoax was suggested, Assistant Secretary Polk in strict confidence replied that, when given the message a month earlier, the department itself had grave doubts respecting authenticity.

Frankly, the government distrusted the British. Shortly afterward, on Jan. 31, the German ambassador, Count Von Bernstorff, confirmed at least a portion of the contents of the communication when he handed to the American secretary of state a note reading that "on the first of February we intend to begin submarine warfare unrestricted." This was the exact language in the intercepted note. It was then Von Bernstorff was given his conge.

The administration's tactics, it was explained to the press association, had been to seek further confirmation by delaying disclosure of the decoded note until Germany confirmed it by doing what it said in both messages it would do, namely, "begin submarine warfare unrestricted."

THE GERMANS soon obliged by sinking the Cunard liner Laconia. Two of the passengers were American citizens who died of exposure in an open boat while awaiting rescue. Finally, the press association was told, the department decided it had better try to ascertain whether or not Von Bernstorff relayed the message to Mexico City.

The Western Union Telegraph Company in Washington, after considerable delay, was given authority by its president, Newcomb Carlton, to furnish the department with the original of a coded message sent from Washington by Von Bernstorff to the German ambassador in Mexico on January 30.

The coded text was found to be identical with the coded message from Berlin the State Department gave Von Bernstorff of Jan. 19. The department then decided that the original Zimmerman message as decoded in Britain was genuine.

When Secretary Lansing returned to Washington after an absence, his assistant, Polk, showed him the Western Union message as decoded. Lansing at once set afoot plans to use the message to shove the country into war against Germany.

The instructions of German Foreign Minister Zimmerman in the intercepted note were that the Mexican government not be told of the plan until Von Bernstorff was "certain there would be an outbreak of war with the United States. "When the ambassador received instructions to tell the United States government that unrestricted submarine warfare would be resumed, he realized his status in Washington was precarious and decided it would be dangerous to delay. So, just before calling upon Secretary Lansing to give notice that submarine warfare would be resumed, he rushed off the Berlin message to Mexico City."

WITH THE ORIGINAL Western Union telegram containing the German offer to Mexico in his possession and confirmed in many ways, President Wilson declared the sinking of the Laconia to be an "overt act" and on Feb. 26 pressed Congress for the adoption of an off-requested resolution of armed neutrality, which would permit the arming of American merchant ships for entrance into the barred sea zone approaches to England and France. In Congress, which was still zealously adhering to the slogan of staying out of the war, a congressional filibuster had been developed. Impatient at being blocked in this way, the President decided two days later to play his ace by using The Associated Press as the exclusive outlet to give the country the text of the German offer to Mexico. In spite of the fact that the government was not willing openly to announce it, the press association promptly fulfilled a duty by publishing it.

Except that he had been elected on an anti-war policy and now wished to incite the people to demand that Congress do his bidding, even to declaring war, there was no reason whatever for the President to hide behind the press association in throwing his propaganda bomb. Instead, the news should have been released to the States government's reinsurance that there was nothing to fear from the tottering government of President Carranza of Mexico, who for months had been unable even to suppress the Villa rebels in his own back yard.

No, Mexico could not have started a war against the United States in conformity with the German suggestion. The Wilson administration knew this and the people had the right to know it too. The trick of using the news in a highly dramatic manner as propaganda brought success to the war advocates and the American people the tragedy of their first world war—and paved the way for the second.

HAVING BEEN convinced that the document was genuine, The A.P. then distributed it as requested. In the excitement attending this great news beat, it did not occur to the press association that the United States government had a motive in using it as a news outlet for war propaganda. That realization came afterward.

Breaking this story could have been hazardous for the press association, which had given its word of honor that it would not disclose how or where it got the text. If Germany had quickly disavowed the note, would the State Department have released the press association from its pledge, told why it had not itself openly announced the news to all Washington correspondents and taken upon itself the business of getting the British government to prove the note genuine?

NEXT (Press use of Zimmerman message stirs nationwide war spirit)

NEW AMBASSADOR — Livingston Merchant, assistant secretary of state for European affairs, has been nominated by President Eisenhower as the new U.S. ambassador to Canada.

Questions, Answers On Social Security

The following are typical questions and answers to social security problems, furnished by Social Security Field Representative Joseph Birmingham at the Salem Postoffice.

Q—An old couple over 70 have been getting social security checks for seven or more years. If either dies will the Social Security pay the funeral expenses? They have no income but Social Security.

A—No. Social Security will not pay the funeral expenses of either of these people. If the couple are drawing checks as man and wife and the man was the one who worked under social security to become insured, then a lump sum of three times the amount he received in one month, but not more than $255 will be paid to the widow, if he should die.

Q—If the wife never worked to become insured on her own account, no lump sum will be paid in the event of her death. If both man and wife worked under social security and were insured, a lump sum would be paid to the other in the event one died. When there isn't a widow or widower living with the insured deceased, the lump sum is paid to the person or persons who pay the funeral expenses after the expenses are paid.

Q—How much time do I have to file my claim for a lump sum?

A—The claim for the lump sum must be filed within two years of the insured's death.

Q—My husband died six months ago leaving me and two children under 18 who all lived with him. I wasn't told about social security or if I was told to file, it didn't sink in at the time. Can I still file payments and have I lost any payments?

A—As long as you file a claim within a year of your husband's death to you as soon as you file and payments and payments will be made to you as soon as you file and payments will continue to you as long as you have a child of the deceased's under 18 entitled to benefits.

Q—I am a widow with one child under 18. I'd like to know what I need when I go into the Social Security office. No one seems to agree on what I should take.

A—Take your marriage certificate, the child's birth certificate, the death certificate and your husband's social security card or number as well as his discharge papers, if he was in service during World War II period. If you or your husband had a previous marriage, you will need the date the former marriage took place and date it ended and how it ended. Also the towns in which the events took place.

Teamsters May Be Suspended

AFL-CIO To Consider Action On May 1

WASHINGTON (AP) — Suspension of the giant Teamsters Union from the AFL-CIO will be considered at a special meeting of the AFL-CIO Executive Council May 1.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, called a meeting after he and Teamsters Union President Dave Beck broke up in disagreement over continued Teamster Union alliances with the ousted International Longshoremen's Assn. Meany insists that the teamsters cancel the alliance with the dock workers union, thrown out of the AFL on the ground it was dominated by gangsters.

Meany reportedly took the position in the face-to-face meeting with Beck that the 1,300,000-member Teamsters Union is violating the constitution of the merged labor movement by continuing relations with the ILA.

Beck contended in his session with Meany that the alliance with the ILA is legal under the AFL-CIO constitution.

"We didn't accomplish anything," Beck told newsmen as he emerged from Meany's office.

Meany declined to discuss details of his talk with Beck, other than to tell reporters "this entire matter will be referred to a special meeting of the Executive Council which I am calling for May 1."

ROPER gas RANGES FOR '56
make every pot and pan automatic!

Amazing, but true! That's why the 1956 gas ranges are causing such excitement. Here's Roper with a new "Tem-Trol" thermostatically-controlled top burner that raises and lowers the flame automatically... just as it does in the oven. No more watching and waiting. No messy boil-overs. No scorching and burning of food, even if you forget.

It's another new convenience you'll find on modern gas ranges. And remember the other advantages of gas cooking... it's cleaner, safer, faster, thriftier, than ever! And only gas is so dependable.
